SHIPPING NOTES.
 The steamer Waimanalo brought 600 bags sugar from Waimanalo September 1st.
 The schooner Leahi brought 101 barrels molasses from Hanalei, Kauai, September 1st.
 The steamer Likie like was lowered from the Marine Railway September 1st.
 The American barkentine Mary Winkelman, Captain Backus, arrived in port September 1st, 14 days from San Francisco. Reports light north-east trades to Honolulu. She is consigned to Messrs. H. Hackfeld & Co., and was docked at Brewer's wharf.
 The Hawaiian bark Thomas R. Foster, Captain F. W. Rugg, will finish unloading her lumber tomorrow, and sail in ballast next Saturday for Port Townsend, W. T., to load lumber for this port.
 The Honolulu Iron Works forwarded by the schooner Laka, September 1st, to Kohalelele, Hamakua, Hawaii, a double-effect (maceration process), 20,000 feet lumber and 75 tons machinery.
 The steamer W. G. Hall took, September 1st, to Pahaia, Hawaii, three sections for the smoketank of Pahaia Sugar Plantation, and some large timbers for Honouliuli wharf.
 The steamer Kilauea Hou took September 1st to Makalei, two steam pumps, and 99 packages machinery, 20,000 feet lumber and 200 tons general merchandise for Hamakua and way ports.

The American bark Fresno, Captain Samuel E. Lewis, finished discharging her 1,824 tons of coal September 1st. She takes in ballast to-day, and sails next Monday for Port Townsend, W. T.

A Sick Fund to Benefit.
 The benefit to be given Friday evening by Fryer's circus for the sick fund of the Honolulu Fire Department is one that should have a crowded house. The Fire Department is a volunteer body. Many of our readers are probably not familiar with what the above fund is intended for. It is designed to aid firemen who receive injuries at fires, help to bury the dead of those who are in indigent circumstances, and otherwise to relieve the wants of distressed firemen. Fines and penalties imposed on the members of the different companies, and donations collected are all turned into the treasury of the department for the sick fund. There is now one fireman receiving weekly allowances, whose relief began some five years ago, and he is still being cared for. It is expected that the department will turn out in uniform.

Miss Hattie Downing, who sang with Remenyi here, and who is well known in this city, will pass through here on the next steamer, Australia, from the Colonies. Mr. Himmer, the tenor, is now teaching vocal music in Melbourne.

ISLAND NOTES.

KOHALA, Hawaii, Aug. 28th.
 Star Mill is about through with the crop, having taken off nearly 1,000 tons. Niuli Mill is through, having ground 2,001 tons; and, though the smallest mill in the district, it has taken off the largest crop, and will do "some more" next grind.

Dias, the popular tradesman here, has opened a new store at Kapaapu, and seems to do a thriving business there as well as at Kaiopihii. He seems to have the lion's share of the business.
 Dr. Thompson has received a fresh lot of vaccine virus, and is ready to vaccinate any and all that may call on him free of expense.

The Sunday school union is "pan" and residents in the near vicinity are much relieved to hear the good bye spoken. A great deal of drunkenness prevailed, and the odor of rum in a number of cases was stronger than the odor of sanctity. It is also reported that the songs of the hula were attempted, but frowned down by the more pious. No white brethren were present.

It is reported that a man of the Kohala Sugar Company, while working at the shore, was severely bitten by a shark, and nearly lost his life.

Mrs. King, of Lahaina, is visiting her relatives at this place; and Mr. and Mrs. Vida, of Olowala, are soon expected. It will be pleasant to again meet with those that Kohala has so much missed.

We hear that Mr. Wm. White, formerly Sheriff of this district, but now resident of Hilo, is soon to return for the purpose of entering into the practice of law. It is to be sincerely hoped that he will do so.

HONOKAA, Hawaii, August 29, 1885.

On the arrival of the C. R. Bishop at Honokaa on last Thursday morning, several antiquated fossils belonging to the police force were on the wharf, and informed some of the merchants here that they could not remove their goods from the storehouse until the Sheriff got back and opened them, said Sheriff being then on his way from Honolulu, and his arrival in Honokaa uncertain. (He has not yet got back.) The parties to whom the goods belonged told the policemen they could search the goods at once, but they refused. We would like to know if this is legal? It certainly is not just. Or is it legal to open goods indiscriminately at the landing, and leave them all open and loose at the mercy of Portuguese, Chinese and natives? No such thing as a warrant is ever thought of. Are Honokaa and Kukuhae ports of entry? If so, a custom house officer should be the one to do this work. We would also like to know what becomes of all the "okole hau" confiscated lately?

The greatest event of the season was the ball given at Kukuhae on last Monday night. All the youth and beauty of the district were there. Several of the young men had their hair powdered perfectly white, and we should not be surprised if they would come out at the next ball with their skulls shaved and wearing a pig-tail, a la Chinese.

The State of the Streets.
 The condition of the streets of Honolulu after the recent showers was discreditable; and now that the storm water has drained off or evaporated, their condition is very little better in places. Merchant street, between Fort street and the Post Office, is full of holes. This being perhaps the most frequented bit of street in the city, it should certainly be put into a decent state of repair. Between Fort street and the Music Hall, Merchant street is nearly impassable after heavy rain. In the depression near the Mutual Telephone Company's office a pool of stagnant water stands for several days after rain, passing off slowly by evaporation, leaving behind it a coating of putrid mud, which, drying slowly by sun and wind, spreads germs of disease broadcast.

School street, between Fort and Nuanu streets, is full of holes. It needs repairing to prevent serious accidents. The condition of Emma street, in the depressed parts of it, is simply disgraceful in wet weather. Nuanu avenue has been cut up by storm water diverted on to the roadbed by the choked water channels; and the road on the wharf, from Fort street to the Pacific Mail steamer, is always impassable after rain. The hydrant on Fort below Queen street is now a nuisance. Owing to the want of proper drainage it keeps the sidewalk and street around in a puddle. It is simply discreditable to all concerned. If these defects are not soon attended to and properly repaired, not only will great inconvenience be experienced, but heavy expenditure will be entailed on the public, when a moderate outlay of money and labor would now suffice.

Death of an Old Island Trader.

Mr. Charles Walcott Brooks died on Sunday, August 16th, at Napa Soda Springs, California. The deceased was born in Medford, Mass., in 1832. He followed the sea for a number of years. In 1854 he arrived in San Francisco, and six years later, in conjunction with W. F. Ladd and Edward F. Hall, Jr., under the firm name of Charles Walcott Brooks & Co., they carried on a flourishing business with these Islands until 1867, when the firm suspended, carrying with it several Hawaiian planters. Mr. Brooks only paid two or three visits to the Islands, living principally in San Francisco. He has held the positions of Japanese Consul at San Francisco and U. S. Commissioner of Silk Culture for the State of California. The deceased was a member of the Union Club from its foundation.

Mr. Wm. G. Irwin left on a business trip yesterday by the Kinau to be absent about two weeks.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Services will be held at the various churches this evening at 7:30 o'clock.

His Majesty the King did not leave for Kona yesterday, having postponed his visit during the morning, until next week.

Yesterday morning, on the affidavit of Dr. Brodie and the certificate of Dr. Webb, a man named Charles Smith was committed to the Insane Asylum.

Before ex-Judge Hartwell left for the Coast he made a donation of $50 to the American Relief Fund through Mr. A. J. Cartwright, President.

Marshal Soper left by the W. G. Hall yesterday to attend a term of the Third Circuit Court, which opens on Thursday at Wailohio, Kau, Hawaii.

The Hon. Samuel Parker and Mrs. Parker left for Mana yesterday by the Kinau. His Majesty the King decorated them with beautiful leis before they boarded the steamer.

The Rev. Father Lenore left by the Kinau yesterday for the purpose of initiating two of the brothers who recently arrived from the States into their duties at the school in Hilo, Hawaii.

Major Antonio Rosa left by the steamer W. G. Hall for Wailohio, Kau, where he will attend the term of the Third Circuit Court. He will conduct the prosecution for the Crown.

The Prince's Own Company has issued neat invitations for a luncheon to be given at their Armory this afternoon at 2 o'clock in honor of the birthday of Her Royal Highness Princess Liliuokalani.

A native was arrested yesterday, but immediately afterwards made his escape from the policeman. A warrant was issued and later in the day the runaway was safely lodged in the Station House.

The Post Office dispatched by the City of Sydney on Monday 4,044 letters and 776 packages of papers. Yesterday the Alameda carried away 2,796 letters and 1,160 packages of papers.

Word was received yesterday from the Kahuku ranch where workmen are boring an artesian well, that water had been met with at a depth of 110 feet. It comes up to within a foot of the surface.

Col. C. P. Iaukea, Collector General of Customs, took passage by the Kinau yesterday for a tour of inspection on the islands of Maui and Hawaii. The Colonel will be absent probably three weeks.

One of the sailors on board the Claus Spreckels deserted the other day. He was arrested yesterday afternoon and locked up. L. P. Anderson, a sailor on board the bark T. R. Foster, is missing, and a warrant is out for his arrest.

Yesterday afternoon, about half past 1 o'clock, one of our well-known express drivers ran his carriage into a large dry. The front wheels of his carriage were considerably damaged. Another young man was arrested for driving without a license.

To-day is the forty-seventh anniversary of the birth of Her Royal Highness the Princess Liliuokalani, heir apparent to the throne. We congratulate Her Royal Highness, and join in wishing her many more happy returns of the day. Her Royal Highness will not hold any reception.

The departure of the Alameda was witnessed by a large number of people. The music of the Royal Hawaiian band was much missed. Quite a number of passengers went forward, many of whom were profusely decorated with leis and wreaths. Signor Farini was almost buried in flowers, as were also Mr. Thomas R. Foster and Mr. Arthur Brown. The fine steamer left her wharf punctually at noon.

The steamers W. G. Hall and Kinau left for windward ports yesterday. It was expected that they would have had a race to Manalea Bay. The Hall left at five minutes past 4 o'clock and the Kinau ten minutes later. At a quarter-past 6 o'clock the Kinau was abreast the Hall. A large crowd of natives were on the wharf, and remained until the two vessels were out of sight.

Last Saturday afternoon, between 3 and 4 o'clock, Mr. H. F. Glade was driving down Nuanu Valley in a break with his coachman. When opposite the ice works the horse shied badly, the result being that the two occupants were thrown out and considerably hurt, more particularly the coachman. They managed in some way to crawl into the ice works and attract the attention of the employees. A carriage was at once telephoned for and both were taken home. The injuries, though severe, are not serious.

A novel and imposing ceremony took place recently at the Widya Buddha Buddhist college in Colombo, Ceylon, by which a young and accomplished English lady named Mary Flynn formally became a professed follower of Lord Buddha. She was dressed in an elegant robe of black silk, sitting in the midst of a crowd of yellow-robed Buddhist priests and repeating the Pansil. The ceremony began by the high priest examining the fair candidate as to the reasons that led her to desire to accept Buddhism as her faith, to which Miss Flynn answered that, after having studied various religious systems of the world, she found the Buddhistic esoteric philosophy as being most in accordance with her own reason and common sense. Other questions having been satisfactorily answered by her, the high priest administered to her the "five precepts," which Miss Flynn promised to observe. The ceremony ended by the chanting of "Ratana Sutta" by all the priests present.

Mexican Aristocrats.

[Vera Cruz Cor. Galveston News.]
 While race distinctions do not seem to operate against the negroes in Mexico, especially in military service, it cannot be said that anything like social equality exists. Even the negroes do not regard the negroes as their equals. It should be recollected that Mexico was not settled as the North American colonies were, by the poor and oppressed, but was occupied by Castilians of the noblest families at a time when Spain was mistress of the world and the flower of chivalry. The descendants of those first families still exercise a controlling influence in Mexico, and prouder aristocrats cannot be found under the sun.

A Different Way.

[Chicago Herald "Train Talk."]
 "Oh, I like traveling," said the fat passenger as he snuggled his big body into one seat and his big feet beside his grip in another. "I like traveling, except that the noise rings in my ears rather unpleasantly."

"Rings in your ears, eh?" spoke up the farmer man who was standing in the aisle; "that's queer. Out to my place when we want one so travel we put a ring in his nose."
